

The Campaign for the Future of Children of All Abilities

Special Edition

Year Ending June 30th, 2013

Aaron Griffin dedicated the Ashley Booth Griffin CARE for Children Center with a quote which had special significance for his wife Ashley and had even hung on a plaque in their kitchen: "Life is not measured by the number of breaths you take but by the moments that take your breath away."

For staff and supporters of CARE for Children and for everyone who knew and loved Ashley, May 17th, 2013 marked one such breathtaking moment as the Ashley Booth Griffin CARE for Children Center was dedicated in a public ceremony, attended by over 130 guests.

The dedication marked the culmination of a six year building project by the non-profit organization to realize the dream of a facility which would provide a permanent home for the almost 90 year old organization; increase its visibility in the community; and be a community, therapy, and early learning center for children of all abilities.

As each speaker stood at the podium in front of the new building at 723 East Main Street, it was apparent it was a bittersweet day for Ashley's family and friends. Her father Greg Booth remarked, "Today we remember Ashley for who she was: a daughter, a wife, a mother, a sister, a niece, a cousin and a friend, a beautiful young woman who loved life, loved the Lord, and loved and cared deeply about children. She was tragically taken from us way too early."

"The Booth and Griffin families appreciate and will be forever grateful for the honor that was bestowed on our beautiful Ashley today... an honor that will live on for decades to come," said Booth.

George Duke, owner and chairman of the board of Zippo Manufacturing Company, who made a $1 million gift and chose to name the facility for Ashley remarked, "Zippo has given a lot of donations over many years, but I would have to say this particular project has really touched my heart maybe the most. To recognize and memorialize Ashley with this center touches me deeply."

"George Duke, Zippo, and the entire community has a long history of an incredible level of generosity, and we thank you and recognize all our donors and friends for your support of CARE for Children," said Mick Marshall, President of the Board of Directors. "CARE has grown since 1924 from providing very distinct services for children with disabilities into a children's service agency that wants to help those we serve reach their potential. Through a culture of inclusion -- the focus on ability, the idea that quality early learning is the key to future success, and the promotion of quality of life programs that are an extension of our core services of pediatric therapy -- CARE has grown to meet the needs of local children. The completion of the Ashley Booth Griffin CARE for Children Center is not the culmination of our goals but the beginning of a new era at CARE."

The official dedication was bookended by a reception on Thursday evening, May 16th, attended by 160 donors and supporters, who were treated to tours of the new building. A special children's dedication, attended by 69 children and 52 adults, was held on Saturday, May 18th and featured crafts, games, an obstacle course, a clown, and giveaways of safety items such as bike helmets and reflectors.

Campaign Summary

Through June 30th, 2013

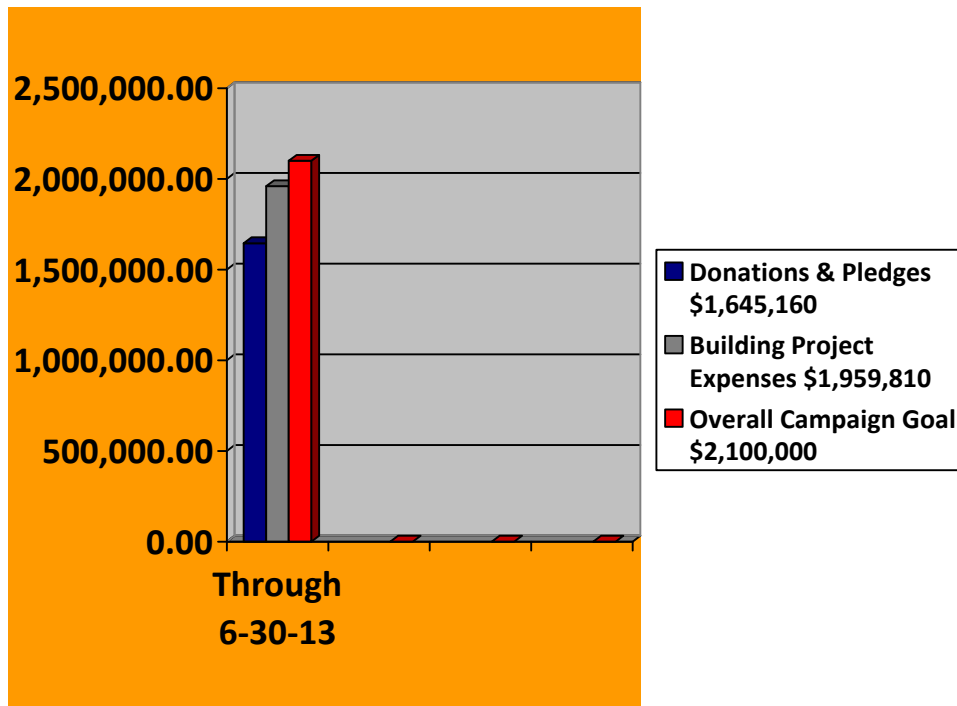

Building Campaign for the Future of Children of All Abilities

As of June 30th, 2013, CARE for Children's building campaign for the Ashley Booth Griffin CARE for Children Center had reached 78% of its $2.1 million goal with the majority of construction complete on the interior and exterior of the new facility.

The campaign will continue to raise funds through donations, pledges and the purchase of tiles for the Inspire. Build. Achieve. Donor Tile Wall. Several additional projects are planned for spring of 2014:

- Construction will begin on the adaptive playground along with the paving of the second parking lot and deeded right-of-way from Russell Boulevard to the building.
- Landscaping for the East Main Street Façade will be completed.
- A memorial green space for Lena Graham Griffin (CARE Executive Director 1950-1970) designed by Graham's Greenhouse and funded by a generous family gift, will be created near the Russell Boulevard Entrance.
- Additional signage will be added to the Russell Boulevard Entrance.
- The artist installation of the Inspire. Build. Achieve. Donor Tile Wall will take place in early spring with a donor unveiling to be held after its completion.

Several naming opportunities remain for the project including the Early Learning Center, the Equipment Center, offices in the administrative wing, and the playground. For more information on how your gift can help CARE grow, please contact 814-362-4621.
